Welcome to the 14th Annual PsychSIGN National Conference! The PsychSIGN National Board has put together a great program for the weekend, and we hope this provides a valuable and educational experience for you.

Our program will begin with opening remarks from Dr. Saul Levin, Chief Executive Officer and Medical Director of the American Psychiatric Association, who will provide perspective on our future careers. We will then proceed with member voting for Regional Leadership for the 2019-2020 year, followed by speakers and workshops. Saturday will end with our Psychiatry Subspecialty Dinner, where you will have the opportunity to dine with physicians representing a variety of facets in the field. Sunday, we will conclude with our usual Residency Fair, with representatives from many excellent programs around the country. We will also be hosting a poster session this year, where you can learn about the interesting work your peers are doing.

This is a special year for the APA, as it’s their 175th anniversary. We hope you will join us Saturday afternoon at the opening reception to celebrate. You MUST be registered for the APA annual meeting in order to attend (registration is FREE and can be done online or onsite at the convention center.)

Finally, we would like to thank the APA for their support of PsychSIGN over the last 14 years, especially Kristen LeBlanc and Katie Putnam.

We hope you enjoy another great PsychSIGN weekend!

Grace Masters
PsychSIGN President, 2018-2019

Dani Takai-Castioni
PsychSIGN President-Elect, 2018-2019

President

Grace Masters, University of Massachusetts School of Medicine

PsychSIGN@gmail.com

Grace is a fourth-year student at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, where she is enrolled in the MD/PhD program. Prior to coming to medical school, she did research and developed a passion for neuroscience and helping those with severe mental illness. Grace previously served as the Region 1 chair and the National Director of PsychSIGN. When not at school, she enjoys cooking, being outside, and spending time with her husband and two cats.

President-Elect

Dani Takai-Castioni, University of New Mexico School of Medicine

PsychSIGNd@gmail.com

Dani is a fourth-year medical student at the University of New Mexico School of Medicine. Dani has been active in both local and national-level student organizations and activities. She previously served two years as Region 7 Chair for PsychSIGN. Her past research has looked at changing health policy to decrease youth suicide rates in the state of New Mexico and the destigmatization of mental illness and substance use disorders in medical students. Currently, she wants to increase the number of students with disabilities who matriculate into medical school. In the free time she doesn’t have, Dani enjoys writing, doing graphic design projects, keeping up with the NY Giants, going on adaptive hiking adventures, and fostering her unhealthy obsession with all things Harry Potter.

PsychSIGN National Leadership 2018–2019

Region 1: Northeast and Canada
Amy Silver, Dalhousie University
PsychSIGNr1@gmail.com
Amy is a second-year MD student at Dalhousie University Medical School in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Currently, she is one of the Ask A Med Student representatives for Dalhousie, as well as being the Vice-President of the class of 2021. When not hiding in the library, Amy can be found enjoying Halifax’s scenic waterfront, trying to finally finish a NYT Sunday crossword, painting, or spending time with her cat, Dr. Fluffers.

Region 2: NY
Yevgeniy Mayr, New York Institute of Technology-College of Osteopathic Medicine
PsychSIGNr2@gmail.com
Yevgeniy is a fourth year medical student at NYIT-COM. He was born in Ukraine and raised in Brooklyn, NY. Yevgeniy’s interests include addiction psychiatry and working with healthcare professionals to address their unique stressors. His previous leadership roles include NYIT-COM’s Student Osteopathic Internal Medicine Association (SOIMA) chapter and being a founding member and bioethics chair of his programs AMA-MSS chapter. In his spare time, Yevgeniy enjoys the outdoors, playing ice hockey, reading for leisure and taking advantage of the pleasures of modern life.

Region 3: Eastern
Cristine Oh, University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine
PsychSIGNr3@gmail.com
Cristine is currently in a research year at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, exploring childhood trauma exposure and its effects on sleep. After undergrad, Cristine engaged in community, public, and volunteer service in various fields. She was an alternatively-certified bilingual Spanish-English teacher with the Texas Teaching Fellows before joining the Peace Corps. Upon returning to America, she helped provide low-income families as a program analyst at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Region 4: Midwestern
Ingrid Kiehl, Stritch School of Medicine
PsychSIGNr4@gmail.com
Ingrid is currently a fourth-year medical student at Loyola University’s Stritch School of Medicine in Chicago. Ingrid has led Loyola MIND, volunteered with the L’Arche community (a network of households for adults with intellectual disabilities), and taught young dancers at Maywood Fine Arts. She is passionate about promoting awareness and acceptance of those with mental illness and child and adolescent psychiatry, psychotherapy, and global health. Her academic interests are balanced by passions for ballroom dancing, painting, and learning about other cultures.

Region 5: Southern
JP Patrizi, Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine
PsychSIGNr5@gmail.com
Jessica, known as “JP,” is a fourth year medical student at Edward Via College of Osteopathic Medicine in Spartanburg, South Carolina. In college, she was a starting setter for the university’s volleyball team and received funding from NASA for her research on stem cell regeneration in the chick nervous system. Upon acceptance into medical school, she became a National Health Service Corps Scholar with primary interests in underserved care, which helped develop a passion for psychiatry, mindfulness, and child and adolescent populations. Outside of medicine, JP has a passion for health and fitness and is certified in strength and conditioning and loves her role as a coach and mentor.
PsychSIGN National Leadership 2018–2019

Region 6: California
Katy Lunny, University of California Irvine School of Medicine
PsychSIGNr6@gmail.com
Katy Lunny is a fourth year medical student at the University of California, Irvine. At UCI, Katy is president of the Psychiatry Interest Group as well as one of the co-founders of the Addiction Medicine Interest Group, and she also sat on the board for the Orange County Needle Exchange Program. She is interested in promoting awareness and acceptance of those with mental illnesses, especially among her medical student peers. In her free time, Katy enjoys spending time with her husband and dog, lifting weights, and spending time outdoors.

Region 7: Western and Canada
Asmara Hoo, Touro University Nevada College of Osteopathic Medicine
PsychSIGNr7@gmail.com
Asmara is a fourth year medical student at Touro University Nevada College of Osteopathic Medicine in Henderson, NV. She developed an interest in mental health when she participated in a Mental Health First Aid course in college, then later became fascinated with the field during medical school. She is interested in mindfulness, wellness and burnout, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, psychotherapy, and the mental health of medical students and health care professionals. She enjoys attending cultural and food festivals; reading self-help books; dancing; and spending time with her family, friends, and Miniature Pinscher.

International Chair
Tamara B. Clark, University of Medicine and Health Sciences
PsychSIGNinternational@gmail.com
A fourth-year medical student, Tamara has a strong commitment to community service, with a special interest in underserved communities and has helped to organize a community health fair in Basseterre, St. Kitts, a fundraising Breast Cancer Awareness 5K, and a field day promoting physical fitness for children in Basseterre, St. Kitts. After graduation, she was a volunteer mentor with the US FIRST Robotics competition and worked with Detroit public high school students to design and build a robot that would compete against other high school students at a national competition. She has volunteered at Cass Clinic to provide non-invasive medical care to uninsured citizens of Detroit.

Social Media Chair
Tyler Wheeler, Dalhousie University
PsychSIGNsocialmedia@gmail.com
Tyler is a medical student at Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Tyler discovered his interest in psychiatry during his first clinical rotation, when he was immediately engrossed by the complicated cases and the fascinating backgrounds of the patients he saw. He is especially interested in early psychosis and forensic psychiatry. While at Dalhousie, Tyler has been IT Officer for the medical students’ society, and was also one of the founding members of the Technology in Medicine Interest Group. He enjoys teaching, and has been involved with numerous high school tutoring programs in the past. Tyler likes over-analyzing TV & movies, hiking, and spending time with his wife and cat.

Forum Moderator
Brian Hodge, CUNY School of Medicine
PsychSIGNforum@gmail.com
Brian is a second year medical student at the CUNY School of Medicine in the Sophie Davis Program, which is a combined 7 year BS/MD program. He has been interested in psychiatry ever since high school, and is seeking to learn more about it as he pursues his MD. He is currently the co-president of the psychiatry student interest group and seeks to get more involved in public health, health justice, volunteering, teaching, and inspiring others to pursue a career in psychiatry. When he is not bragging about how great psychiatry is, Brian enjoys cooking some of the best meals the world has seen, doing yoga, and listening to music.
PsychSIGN National Leadership 2018–2019

Mentorship Chair

Kelly Yang, Albert Einstein College of Medicine
PsychSIGNmentorship@gmail.com

Kelly is a second year medical student at Albert Einstein College of Medicine in the Bronx. Kelly has always been curious about the bio-psycho-social influences in our lives. After college, she moved to Boston to work in clinical research at MGH, where she discovered her interest in child and adolescent psychiatry. Currently, Kelly serves as the co-vice president of Einstein’s neurology and psychiatry interest group and is continuing to explore her academic interests through research on health equity and disparities in mental health care. She loves going swing dancing when she has the time, dabbles in painting, and hopes to explore more of New York City’s food scene in the next few years.

Residency Application Chair

Christina Warner, University of Minnesota
PsychSIGNresidency@gmail.com

My name is Christina Warner. I am a fourth year medical student at the University of Minnesota (obviously) interested in psychiatry. I originally grew up in Seattle, WA and spent my undergraduate years at Stanford. After college I worked for a small family winery in the Napa Valley for a few years. I have special interests in gender & sexuality, LGBTQ mental health, and women’s mental health. Outside of school I enjoy yoga, studio art, and hanging out with my cat (Kilgore Trout). Excited to be part of the PsychSIGN leadership team as the Residency Chair!

Wellness & Burnout Prevention Chair

Erawadi Singh, Touro College of Osteopathic Medicine – Middletown
PsychSIGNwellness@gmail.com

Era is a 4th year med student and serves as President of the Psychiatry Student Interest Group, VP of Gender in Medicine, along with many other roles. She was recently named Touro College’s and MSSNY’s student doctor of the year. She grew up sleeping on a sofa in the living room in her family’s 1-bedroom apartment in one of NJ’s most difficult neighborhoods. After college, she held many different jobs including psychiatric arts researcher, indie rock DJ, host of a college radio show, plus size model, and tutor of Tibetan monks. In her rare free time, Era enjoys tutoring, particularly for students in the low income setting of Newark, NJ where she was raised, in addition to traveling, kickboxing, concerts, debates, and watching re-runs of Parks and Recreation with her dog, Buttons.

AMA MSS Delegate

Kelsey Wong, Western University of Health Sciences
PsychSIGNama@gmail.com

Kelsey is a 4th-year med student at Western University of Health Sciences in Pomona, California. Kelsey’s current interests include improving healthcare access for marginalized populations, advocating for students, and practicing at the intersection of medicine and psychiatry. She has conducted research on healthcare disparities in her hometown of Sacramento, volunteered at student-run free clinics for the medically underserved in the Los Angeles area, and served as past PsychSIGN Region 6 Chair. Outside of medicine, Kelsey writes poetry and edits prose, sings with the WesternU Chamber Singers, and embraces imperfection as a ballet hobbyist at Inland Pacific Ballet Studio.

Residency Alumnus Liaison

Natasha Gambhir, Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine
PsychSIGNalumnusliaison@gmail.com

Natasha is a first year resident at UT Austin. Her career goals for psychiatry are focused on spreading awareness about mental health to different socioeconomic and cultural groups. She is originally from India and loves to spread her culture everywhere she goes. Her hobbies include dancing and fashion.

Presenters and Session Information

Welcome Address
Saul Levin, M.D., M.P.A., FRCP-E
Chief Executive Officer and Medical Director, American Psychiatric Association
Chair, Board of Directors, APA Foundation
Clinical Professor, George Wash. University School of Medicine & Health Sciences

Dr. Levin is the Chief Executive Officer and Medical Director of the American Psychiatric Association (APA). Prior to assuming this role in October 2013, Dr. Levin led the District of Columbia Department of Health (DOH). There, he was responsible for the health of the nation’s capital, including primary care for people of all ages on Medicaid and Medicare, DC-funded health care, HIV/AIDS, addictions, health professional licensing and regulation, policy, and planning. He was also responsible for health emergency preparedness, planning and coordinating alongside dozens of federal and local agencies to ensure the public’s health during major events such as President Obama’s second inauguration. Moreover, he promoted the development of a citywide health information exchange that connects health care providers, shares critical information to promote patient care, tracks outcomes, prepares for disasters and provides for public health surveillance. Dr. Levin also served on the D.C. Health Exchange Board and chaired the Essential Health Benefits Package Subcommittee, where he successfully led the effort to ensure that residents of the District of Columbia had access to a full range of substance abuse and mental health services. He also co-chaired the committee that oversaw the integration of substance abuse and mental health services into the new Department of Behavioral Health. Dr. Levin has long been involved in organized medicine and psychiatry. He served as Vice President for Science, Medicine, and Public Health at the American Medical Association. There, he oversaw programs related to evolving health delivery systems, such as in the areas of prevention and health care disparities. He also led efforts to improve the interface between clinical medicine and public health.

Keynote Presentation:
"Medical Student and Physician Suicide: What You Can Do to Save a Life"
Michael F. Myers, M.D.
Professor of Clinical Psychiatry, SUNY-Downstate Medical Center
Previous Vice-Chair of Education and Director of Training, Department of Psychiatry &
Behavioral Sciences, SUNY-Downstate Medical Center

Dr. Myers is Professor of Clinical Psychiatry and recent past Vice-Chair of Education and Director of Training in the Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences at SUNY-
Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, NY. He is a specialist in physician health and the author or co-author of eight books the most recent of which are “Why Physicians Die by Suicide: Lessons Learned from Their Families and Others Who Cared”, “The Physician as Patient: A Clinical Handbook for Mental Health Professionals” (with Dr Glen Gabbard) and “Touched by Suicide: Hope and Healing After Loss” (with Carla Fine). He is a past president of the New York City Chapter of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention and a current member of the Clinician Survivor Task Force of the American Association of Suicidology. Dr Myers became a survivor of suicide at the age of 19 when he lost one of his medical school roommates to suicide. He lectures extensively throughout North America and beyond. Trying to “practice what he preaches” he keeps fit by swimming and riding his bike around Central Park. He’s also been taking piano lessons for an undisclosed length of time – he’s been gently advised by many significant others not to quit his day job!
Presenters and Session Information

Plenary Session: Communication Skills for Residency Interviews
Pamela Arenella, M.D.
Director of Psychiatry Residency Training & Vice Chair for Education, Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences, University of New Mexico School of Medicine

Dr. Arenella is an associate professor at the University of New Mexico’s School of Medicine. She is the Vice Chair for Education and Program Director for Residency Training in the Department of Psychiatry. In her role as Program Director and Vice Chair, she is actively engaged in educational program development for the Department and mentoring both trainees and junior faculty in pursuing their scholarly endeavors. She is board certified in Addiction Medicine and works as an attending in the Dual Diagnosis Clinic at the University’s Alcohol and Substance Abuse Program and in the University Psychiatric Consultants Clinic. She is a member of the Motivational Interviewing Network of Trainers and teaches interviewing skills to trainees, staff, and faculty at the University of New Mexico. As an addiction specialist, she has worked extensively with patients from all walks of life. As a result of this work and in her work with trainees, she has become interested in the study of wellness and resiliency. As such, she has recently taken on a position as the Director of Humanities and Creativity in the Office of Physician and Student Wellness within the School of Medicine.

Breakout Session: Developmental Issues Involved in Becoming a Psychiatrist
David Mintz, M.D.
Director of Psychiatric Education, The Austen Riggs Center
Leader, Psychotherapy Caucus of the American Psychiatric Association

Dr. Mintz is a graduate of the University of Miami School of Medicine and the Cambridge Hospital/Austen Riggs Center Combined Residency Program. He completed a Fellowship in Psychodynamic Psychotherapy at the Austen Riggs Center, where he remained on staff and works with complex patients who have proved resistant to other treatments. In addition to providing psychotherapy and medication management, Dr. Mintz serves as Treatment Team Leader, Associate Training Director, and Director of Psychiatric Education. Among his responsibilities in this capacity, Dr. Mintz oversees an Elective in Psychodynamic Psychiatry, a resource for medical students from schools across the country. His primary academic interest is the clinical impact of psychosocial aspects of pharmacotherapy and, together with colleagues at the Austen Riggs Center, he has developed a psychodynamically-informed, patient-centered approach to patients with treatment-resistance. Dr. Mintz is also interested in psychodynamic aspects of medical education, professionalism, and approaches to complex, treatment-refractory psychiatric illness. He presently is the Leader of the Psychotherapy Caucus at the APA, is an elected Trustee at the American Academy of Psychodynamic Psychiatry and Psychoanalysis, and is on the Medical Student Education Committee of the American Psychoanalytic Association.

Breakout Session: Caring for Rural Transgender Youth and their Mental Health
Nathaniel Sharon, M.D.
Adjunct Assistant Professor, University of New Mexico

Dr. Sharon is an adjunct assistant professor with the University of New Mexico and a staff inpatient psychiatrist in California. He has been working to increase education and clinical services for transgender people since 2009 and in 2015 was part of starting a transgender health service at the University of New Mexico. He continues to work to support pediatric transgender health care service through the University of New Mexico and across the State of New Mexico. He is a member of the Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Committee through the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, contributing to their policy statement against conversion therapy for sexual orientation and gender identity/expression and the “Facts for Families” to support parents caring for transgender and gender diverse youth. He provides education and consultation on the State, National and International level on behavioral health for transgender and gender diverse youth. His current publication work involves contributing to the mental health chapter for the second addition of Trans Bodies, Trans Selves. Lastly, Dr. Sharon is a key investigator in a community based research project to improve the health of transgender people in the Albuquerque-area. He is passionate about continuing to improve the health, well-being and visibility of transgender and gender diverse youth by including their voices and solutions to the problems still faced today.
Presenters and Session Information

Breakout Session: Wellness Discussion

Julie Chilton, M.D., DFAACAP
Assistant Clinical Professor, Yale Child Study Center

Dr. Chilton is an Assistant Professor at the Yale Child Study Center and in private practice in Asheville, NC. She has been advocating for cultural change to promote physician and trainee well-being since medical school, serves on the APA’s Committee on Physician Well-Being, and the APA Committee on Continuing Medical Education and Lifelong Learning. Dr. Chilton has co-authored two book chapters and given numerous Grand Rounds and presentations on the subject nationally and internationally since 2002. Additionally, she has served on AACAP’s Consumer Issues Committee since 2010, is an Executive Board Member and the Presidential Fellow for Global Education for the International Association of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Allied Professions (IACAPAP). She is also an Associate Editor for the JMI Rey’s IACAPAP Online Textbook of Child and Adolescent Mental Health, and an Assistant Editor for the Journal of the American Academy of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry’s Book Forum.

Breakout Session: HIV, Aging, and Cognitive Impairment

Karl Goodkin, M.D., PhD, DLFAPA, FACP, FRSM
Professor, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, Quillen College of Medicine at East Tennessee State University

Dr. Goodkin is a Professor in the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Quillen College of Medicine at East Tennessee State University. His expertise has been in the area of HIV-related neurocognitive disorders, and he has served on the Committee on HIV Psychiatry of the APA since 1992. He has also served on the consensus panel for the medical management of older patients with HIV infection published by the American Academy of HIV Medicine in 2012 and updated in 2015. He was a member of the APA’s original Practice Guidelines Work Group on HIV/AIDS, published in 2000, supplemented by a guidelines watch published in 2006. He was also a member of the Algorithms Work Group of the committee revising the American Academy of Neurology’s diagnostic criteria for the HIV-associated neurocognitive disorders at the Frascati Conference, published in Neurology. He was a founding member of the International Society for Neurovirology and a charter member of the Society on Neuroimmune Pharmacology. He currently serves on the Neuropsychology Work Group of the Multi-Center AIDS Cohort Study (MACS) and on the Neurology Collaborative Science Working group of the AIDS Clinical Trials Group (ACTG). His research interests concern the causes, treatment, and prevention of HIV-associated neurocognitive impairment and disorder and their association with aging. He has been involved in mentoring throughout his career, and currently serves on a NIH-funded study to recruit, train, and mentor multidisciplinary researchers to conduct relevant and sound research in the area of Neuro-AIDS in Nigeria. Most recently, Dr. Goodkin has been asked to join the APA’s task force for the text revision of the DSM-5.

CV Bootcamp

Hosted by the Association for Academic Psychiatry
The Association for Academic Psychiatry (AAP) returns for another CV bootcamp! AAP will provide templates and an overview of a successful CV. The AAP focuses on education in psychiatry at every level from the beginning of medical school through lifelong learning for psychiatrists and other physicians. It seeks to help psychiatrists who are interested in careers in academic psychiatry develop the skills and knowledge in teaching, research, and career development required to succeed. AAP provides members a forum to exchange ideas on teaching techniques, curriculum, and other issues and to work together to solve problems. AAP works with other professional organizations with mutual interests and objectives through committee liaison and collaborative programs. Participants are invited to bring copies of their own CVs for review.
